

WITNESS FOR LEO FRANK IS FOUND IN CHICAGO

Attorneys for "Defense Will Not Divulge Name or Character of His Testimony"

That a witness material to the defense of Leo M. Frank has been located in the suburbs of Chicago is the substance of a statement made Sunday by an Associated Press correspondent by Attorney Herbert J. Haas, of the Frank defense.

According to dispatches, Mr. Haas refused to divulge the name of the new witness or the character of the testimony, which is to be expected from him. Attorneys of the Frank defense have also refused to discuss the Chicago angle of the case.

C. E. Sears, head of the Atlanta branch of the Burns detective agency, said he had not expected the return of William J. Burns Monday.

Mr. Sears said he has received no information as to when the famous detective will return.

In the absence of Burns the probe of the Frank case is continuing under the direction of Dan Lehon, of New Orleans, who is in the southern division of the agency.

Mr. Lehon says several new points in the case have been developed. He took charge of the investigation, and these points will immediately be turned to the attention of Burns on his return to the city.

Lehon continues to express satisfaction at the manner in which the investigation is proceeding.

UNIQUE TREAT FOR MUSIC LOVERS TO BE GIVEN HERE

Philharmonic Orchestra to Render Kipling's "The Light That Failed"

Atlanta music lovers will be given a unique treat Tuesday evening at the concert of the Philharmonic Orchestra, when the musical interpretation of Kipling's "The Light That Failed" will be played for the first time in this city.

Mortimer Wilson, leader of the orchestra, has taken special pains in preparation of this musical interpretation, which shows the life story of Kipling's tragic artist-hero.

Eva Emmett Wycoff will sing at this performance.

The program follows:

Symphonic overture, "Romance," Allaire, M. P. Mason.

From "I Paid," "Romance," Menusetto and Gavotte, R. Leoncavallo.

From "The Cross of Fire," "The Light That Failed," (after Kipling), C. E. Pemberton.

From "The Damnation of Faust," Hungarian March, H. Berlioz.

MEMORIAL DAY PARADE TO BE GREATEST EVER

Colonel Pomeroy to Be Grand Marshal for Pageant on April 27

Plans are now being made to have one of the largest Memorial day parades ever in Atlanta on April 27. The parade day comes on Sunday, April 26, this year, so the parade will be held the next day.

Colonel E. E. Pomeroy, ex-commander of the Fifth regiment, has been chosen as the grand marshal of the parade, and Major F. M. Cochran, former adjutant of the Fifth, will be Colonel of Honor.

Lawton B. Evans, of Augusta, son of the distinguished Georgia Confederate general, Clement A. Evans, will be one of the guests of the day.

Colonel Pomeroy deplores the absence of the seventeenth infantry this year, who has hitherto always taken part in the parade, but many companies have been recruited from civic and fraternal organizations that they will do their part to make the parade a big one.

FIRST CHINAMAN FACES JUDGE AT EAST POINT

The first Chinaman who has ever been tried for a felony in East Point will be arraigned in the East Point police court this morning on the charge of attempted burglary of another Chinaman's laundry.

San Wing, the accused, is charged with trying to break in Low Sing's laundry here Sunday afternoon while he was in Atlanta.

ATLANTA WOMEN SCORED AS SLAVES TO FASHION

Taking for his subject "The Slaves of the Devil," Rev. A. C. Shuler, pastor of the East Side Tabernacle, Sunday evening declared the women of Atlanta had gone crazy over dress and were pleasure, and were corrupting and ruining the standard as well as spiritual destruction on the human race.

DRUGGING THE EYES
Distracting the pupils does not insure correct fitting glasses. Our glasses are fitted by modern drugless methods. Polson & Blanchard, Optometrists, Atlanta, 28, between Whitehall and Broad. (Adv.)

DRINKS ACID BY MISTAKE FOR WHISKY AND DIES
Will Rogers, colored, entered his "home" house at 25 Pittman place Sunday afternoon, seized a whisky bottle on the table and drank the contents, a solution of carbolic acid. He died a few hours later at the Grady hospital. It was stated by his sister that Rogers thought the acid was whisky.

To Sing "Gallia"
Atlanta University present Gannon's Gallia by a chorus at a Yessen Lenten service, Sunday, March 29. This chorus has never been presented before by any of the negro institutions. Rev. C. Breckinridge, pastor of D. D. will give an address. The public is cordially invited.

A Chicken Hawk in Flight
"The Chicken Hawk in Flight," a new chicken hawk in flight, which suggests the motion of a motor car. No flapping, no noise, but a series of quick, accurate beats of the wings, each sending the bird forward in a step of several yards. The chicken hawk strikes, then a jump.

Delightfully New Spring Merchandise in the Most Amazing Sale We Have Ever Staged

Profit Sharing for employees marks a new era in department store work.

It's a big innovation that must be introduced in a big way.

We want to impress our salespeople with the benefits of the Profit Sharing Plan.

Money talks! When our salespeople see how additional sales adds to their pay check at the end of the week, they will want to make more sales. To this end, they will learn more about their merchandise. They will be more anxious to please our patrons, readily giving to each customer their sincere, individual courteous attention.

The Profit-Sharing Plan is the Doctrine of Initiative and Incentive

Individual interest is the liveliest factor in any store.

It's the policy of the proprietor multiplied by the initiative of every individual who represents him. Our salespeople are our representatives.

They—not any people—will develop their fullest initiative without adequate incentive. A larger pay check is the potent incentive through which we hope to raise our service beyond any previously accepted standard.

We have gone at length into this matter so that our customers may know the reason for these absurdly low prices on new Spring merchandise.

Toys at Half Price & Less

A most amazing clearaway of hundreds of toys. We include our entire stock of children's desks, chairs, etc., at half price.

BE SURE TO REGISTER BEFORE 6TH OF APRIL

Books Close Then for County,
State and National Primaries for Year

The registration books for the county primary will be closed April 6. The that voters who are in doubt as to whether their names are on the books should make sure by going to the tax collector's office. To register it is necessary to show all taxes both city, county and state, for the year 1913 have been paid.

The primary will be held on May 5, and the entry list for candidates will close on April 11 at 12:30 o'clock p. m. J. O. Cochran, secretary of the executive committee, states that the candidates paying their entry fees very slowly. Checks mailed to him should be addressed to 525 Grant building.

It happens this year that April 6, the date for closing the registration for the county primary, is also the date when the books will be closed for all sub-year in which county, state and national officials are to be voted on, the only exception being the municipal primary of Atlanta.

The state law requires the registration books to be closed six months prior to the date of the general state election, which will be held on the first Wednesday in October, and this throws the closing date on April 6.

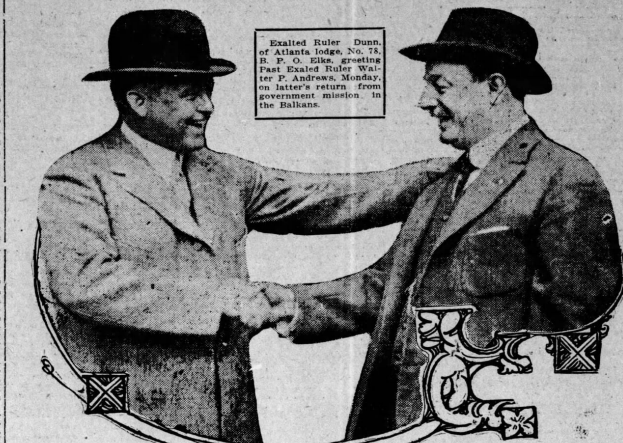

In other words, one must register between now and this date not only for the local county primary, but also for the primary for state house officials and United States senators, congressmen, etc.

TO PLAN ANOTHER TOUR OF CITY AND SUBURBS

Wilmer L. More, former president of the Atlanta chamber of commerce and new chairman of the industrial and statistical board executive committee, has called a meeting of his committee for Tuesday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock to make plans for the second industrial tour of the city and suburbs.

Secretary W. H. Leahy has been busy for the past few weeks outlining certain details of the proposed trip and these will be presented to the committee for its consideration. It is understood that the members will consummate definite plans and name a date not far distant for the tour.

BROTHER ELKS AND SHRINERS WELCOME COL. ANDREWS HOME

Exalted Ruler Dunn, of Atlanta lodge, No. 78, R. P. O. Elks, greeting Exalted Ruler Walter P. Andrews, Monday, on latter's return from government mission in the Balkans.

Delegation Greets U. S. Commissioner on Return From Balkan States - William J. Harris Arrives on Same Train

Atlanta's homelike springtime and the happy faces of a bunch of brother Elks and Shriners looked mighty good to Colonel Walter P. Andrews, late commissioner of the United States government, when he blew in at the Terminal station Monday noon from the Balkan states.

"Hear that?" inquired A. L. Dunn, exalted ruler of the local Elks, as Colonel Andrews used to be. "They're blowing the whistles for you, Walter." But the exposition commissioner was elated to be jollied. He swore he had been positively homesick for the old faces, even if he did keep so busy representing Uncle Sam in the courts of kings and sultans that he didn't have time even to look in on the balmy climes of Egypt. "We pass up Egypt and said right on to the Mediterranean; and we got there in the depth of winter," said he. "Was it cold?" someone asked. "Cold? Why, it was no colder there a couple of years ago they couldn't even fight," he answered. "And that's the kind of winter we bumped in on. Snow was knee-deep or worse everywhere we went."

SUCCESSFUL MISSION.

The success of Colonel Andrews' special mission in behalf of the Panama-Pacific exposition of San Francisco has been told already in news dispatches from New York and Washington. He visited eight nations, Spain, Portugal, France, Greece, Turkey, Roumania, Bulgaria and Serbia. Of these eight, the following four have agreed to take part in the big exposition: France, Greece, Bulgaria and Turkey. Of the four remaining, all of which had replied definitely that the would not take part, three—Roumania, Portugal and Spain—have agreed to reopen consideration of the matter. It is improbable that Serbia can participate.

"I've put in four months of an hard work as I ever did in my life," said Colonel Andrews, between gasps while friends pumped his hand and patted him on the back and hugged him on his way out of the Terminal station. "I've done the very best I could to succeed completely in the work the government entrusted to me."

Mrs. Andrews, who accompanied her husband throughout his tour, did not return to Atlanta with him, having remained in New York to attend some shopping. Colonel Andrews came directly from Washington, leaving there Sunday afternoon after rendering his final report to the state department.

R. A. Gordon, H. E. Miller and J. L. ("Hag") Ward went to Gainesville on an early train, Monday, to meet Colonel Andrews and escort him home at the same train from Washington there traveled with Colonel Andrews to Atlanta the director of the census, William J. Harris, chairman of the state Democratic executive committee. These two were closely associated with Colonel E. F. Brown as the third of his trio, in the early days of Wilsonian

Deaths and Funerals

MRS. CARLOTTA F. BINDER. Mrs. Carlotta Fredricka Binder, aged seventy years, died at 10 o'clock Monday morning at her residence, 3 La France street. She had been an invalid for eighteen years. She came to Atlanta thirty-three years ago from Philadelphia, and since that time has been living at 35 La France street. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. A. L. Costa and Mrs. Lottia Thompson, and by three sons, Frederick, Adolph and G. R. Binder. The funeral will be held Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock from the residence. The interment will be in West View cemetery.

MR. ABRAHAM TAYLOR. Following an illness of several months, Mr. Abraham Taylor, who died Sunday morning, the coroner returned a verdict of death because of vulvular heart failure. Mr. Taylor was forty years old. He died at 11 o'clock Sunday morning at his residence, 17 Gilmer street. The funeral will be held Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock from Greenberg & Bond's chapel.

LEONARD LOWRY. Leonard Lowry, the ten-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Lowry, died Monday morning at 8 o'clock at the family residence, 116 Humphries street. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE TO BACK THE FIFTH?

Resolutions strongly endorsing the Fifth regiment as an organization of incalculable value to the city and urging the business men of the city to give it their support, will be introduced at the meeting of the chamber of commerce on Monday afternoon.

The resolutions have been drawn by Colonel E. E. Pomeroy and other members of the military committee of the chamber.

The resolutions as drawn provide for the appropriation of $100 to be used in an investigation of the attitude of the employers of the city toward the regiment.

The Fifth regiment has recently suffered a decrease in the number of its men, and this was attributed to the objection of many employers to their employing soldiers during military duty.

If the resolutions are adopted the chamber of commerce will not only induce the regiment, but will make the investigation with a view to taking further steps to increase the interest of the employers in the regiment and to secure their co-operation.

Miss Dessa Wood Dead. Miss Dessa Wood, fourteen years old, daughter of Mrs. J. W. Joyner, died at the residence, 564 Lawton street, at 10 o'clock Monday morning. In addition to her mother, two sisters and one brother survive. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Democracy in Georgia. When they strove to win the state for the great new leader and secure Georgia's vote for him in the Baltimore convention, Mr. Harris comes to Atlanta for a stay of several days on business of the state committee.

MANY APPROVE CHANGES IN GEORGIA ROAD TRAINS

Prominent Residents Along
Line of Railroad Want New Schedules

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) AUGUSTA, Ga., March 30.—Percy E. May, president of the National Exchange and Augusta Savings banks, says that he feels the proposed change in train schedules on the Georgia road will be of great benefit. "There will be four through trains from Augusta to Atlanta each day and also four through trains from Atlanta to Augusta each day, instead of three," said Mr. May, "which improvement means much in itself. It seems to me that the change should be received with much approval in both Augusta and Atlanta and through the territory covered by the railroad, while the advantage it gives the people of South and North Carolina in reaching points west and southwest in so much shorter time than now should cause them to enthrone over the proposition."

R. H. Alexander, of Alexander & Steiner, believes that the additional train service with faster schedule will prove a splendid innovation, and he feels that it will prove of tremendous advantage to be able to leave Augusta at noon and reach Cincinnati for breakfast the next morning.

R. Roy Goodwin, of Goodwin & DuVal, says that he believes the new arrangement will be a most excellent one for this entire section of the country. "It should mean a great deal for the tourist business of Augusta," said Mr. Goodwin, "for people will be able to come direct to Augusta from western points and return by the most direct route, never having to leave their sleeping cars from the time they leave home until they reach Augusta."

"The making of the cities of Augusta and Atlanta points through which the railroad runs many thousands of people yearly going from east to west and vice versa will be of tremendous importance, thinks Mr. Goodwin."

Rufus H. Brown, cashier of the Georgia railroad, believes the new arrangement will prove very beneficial to this section of the country.

"It seems to me," said Mr. Brown, "that Augusta and this entire section should welcome with open arms a movement to have more trains, quicker connections and the making of the Georgia railroad a through line."

Thomson Business Men Want Schedules Changed

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) THOMSON, Ga., March 30.—P. P. THOMSON, mayor of Thomson, in speaking of the proposed changes in the schedules on the Georgia railroad, declared:

"I am favorable to the changes because I believe the railroad officials know what is for the best interests of the traveling public and would not fail to make these changes if they would not improve the service of the Georgia railroad."

E. D. Borders, superintendent J. E.

PAXON HEADS COMMITTEE TO PLAN ENTERTAINMENTS

President Moll R. Wilkinson, of the Atlanta chamber of commerce, has named Colonel Frederick J. Paxton, chairman of the standing entertainment committee of the chamber for this year, the committee to be composed of fifty members representing every professional and business interest in the city.

All future entertainments of the chamber will be under direction of this committee.

NEGRO ON TRIAL CHARGED WITH KILLING A WOMAN

Worford Johnson, negro, indicted by the grand jury for the murder of Mamie Bennett, a negroes, during the early morning hours of January 17 last, went to trial for his life before Judge Hill in the criminal division of the Fulton county superior court Monday morning.

Smith Manufacturing company, said: "Aside from the great benefit to be derived from the close connections with the east and west and the fast time to be made to Augusta or Atlanta, the opportunity to spend the week end in Atlanta appeals to me."

"The quick passenger service and close connections in Augusta and Atlanta are what we need. After the afternoon train to Augusta is another good feature," said R. L. Hadaway, merchant.

J. G. Stovall, representative from McElferry county, said: "I am in favor of any improvement in the passenger service and it seems to me the proposed changes will accomplish this."

"It will make a great improvement in the passenger service of the Georgia railroad and is something that has long been needed," declared J. B. Burnside, attorney.

What Anne Rittenhouse Says

PARIS—The place to see, either in Paris or at the races, is at the Rittenhouse. This is the latest and greatest of the fashions which have been put on the dressmaker at the Rittenhouse.

It is something how quickly a new style becomes an old style over here. One sees at the races the gown of the moment, not those of yesterday, but one often sees, also, the gown of the moment.

It is used to be a practice of all the great houses, with the exception of the Worth and Reiboux, to send mannequins to the races to show the latest fashions. This was done in much the same fashion as those of the Rittenhouse.

It is no wonder that with such a practice the general knowledge of a new fashion quickly spreads. The public was able to see in the Rittenhouse the American and German and South American buyers had paid to see behind the closed doors.

To a large extent this practice has been abandoned. Few of the leading houses, those which now constitute the so-called Council of Ten, who have been drawn together in common bond to withstand the ravages of the enemy, take the trouble to exhibit their gowns on public places.

There is a strong feeling that the houses have represented the fashion and fashion who receive the gowns without paying for them. In the French mind this is a business-like method of resistance.

From it, for no matter how much the price may be, the French mind, in its love of the dollar, have none of the instinct or practice of thrift that they have.

The French women who are at the races these days insist that there is nothing new, because all was foreseen in December before the fashion-able people left town for the Riviera and Egypt. This may be true, but as far as the French mind is concerned, there is a new fashion, there is much that is new in the clothes, the figure and the culture.

Especially is the hat of the day a novelty to the American. The millinery buyers who were here the middle of last month saw these hats and bought them, so it is probable that America is leading them.

Their main feature is a tilt to the left. As they are without brim except for a few sharp ridges for certain types of faces, they give a woman's head a striking resemblance to the head of a military figure.

The most fashionable of the new turbans is shaped like a thinking cap, made of varnished straw and is trimmed with lacquered ribbon. And when the wearer can stand it, sometimes when she cannot, the milliner will add a bit of culture to the top of the crown, that cross each other and extend for six or eight inches into the atmosphere.

A man is spread to their utmost capacity at the tips one wants to attach a ball and chain to the feet of the woman to keep her on earth. It seems impossible that she will not be blown upward by any breeze.

The Black Gown. A man at the races remarked that he never saw women's faces look so clean. He was looking at a girl who was looking at a woman enlightened him as to the reason. Their hair, which is brushed away from the brow and temples. This new coiffure shows all the face one has, and it even goes so shockingly far to uncover the ears.

This is a part of a woman's anatomy that she has skillfully kept from the public for the last four years.

GAINEVILLE CHAMBER HOLDS ANNUAL DINNER

GAINEVILLE, Ga., March 30.—The annual banquet of the Gaineville chamber of commerce was held at Riverside Military academy Thursday evening. Dr. J. B. George, president of the chamber, acted as toastmaster and the speakers were Mayor John B. Rudolph, John A. Smith, Dr. J. D. Fletcher, Carter, B. S. Barker and W. D. Meador.

The topics discussed by the various speakers included better municipal government for the city of Gaineville, better roads for all county, cheap freight rates and less alleged discrimination by the railroads against the wholesale houses of Gaineville, and the spirit of cooperation on the part of all business men in the interest of the city of Gaineville.

MAYOR DAVANT TO INVITE WILSON TO SAVANNAH

SAVANNAH, Ga., March 30.—Mayor Davant has left for Washington, where he is to attend the National drainage congress. While in Washington the delegation will call on prominent senators and congressmen to urge them to attend the drainage congress.

MILLIONAIRE HOBO TO JOIN COXEY'S ARMY

NEW YORK, March 30.—J. Rude Now, "Millionaire Hobo," and founder of the Brotherhood Welfare Association, has written to Alexander Law, secretary of the association, that he is coming with his followers for a national demonstration at Washington on May in connection with Coxey's army.

New Alabama Bank

MONTGOMERY, Ala., March 30.—News of the organization of the People's Bank of Centerville, with a capital of $25,000, has reached the city. The new bank is to be organized by the Citizens' National Bank, which is to be the first of a new series of banks to be organized in the state.

LITTLE STORIES FOR BEDTIME

BY THORNTON W. HEDGECOCK

Sammy Jay was excited. Every one who heard him knew that, and every body who was anywhere near him knew that. He would have had to be stone dead not to have. Sammy Jay is just like people—when he gets just a little excited he begins to talk in a loud voice. The more excited he gets, the louder he talks. By and by, when he gets very much excited, he screams. That is what he did.

He was doing this one beautiful spring morning, screaming at the top of his lungs. He was screaming at the top of his lungs. He was screaming at the top of his lungs. He was screaming at the top of his lungs.

He was screaming at the top of his lungs. He was screaming at the top of his lungs. He was screaming at the top of his lungs. He was screaming at the top of his lungs.

He was screaming at the top of his lungs. He was screaming at the top of his lungs. He was screaming at the top of his lungs. He was screaming at the top of his lungs.

He was screaming at the top of his lungs. He was screaming at the top of his lungs. He was screaming at the top of his lungs. He was screaming at the top of his lungs.

He was screaming at the top of his lungs. He was screaming at the top of his lungs. He was screaming at the top of his lungs. He was screaming at the top of his lungs.

He was screaming at the top of his lungs. He was screaming at the top of his lungs. He was screaming at the top of his lungs. He was screaming at the top of his lungs.

He was screaming at the top of his lungs. He was screaming at the top of his lungs. He was screaming at the top of his lungs. He was screaming at the top of his lungs.

He was screaming at the top of his lungs. He was screaming at the top of his lungs. He was screaming at the top of his lungs. He was screaming at the top of his lungs.

He was screaming at the top of his lungs. He was screaming at the top of his lungs. He was screaming at the top of his lungs. He was screaming at the top of his lungs.

He was screaming at the top of his lungs. He was screaming at the top of his lungs. He was screaming at the top of his lungs. He was screaming at the top of his lungs.

He was screaming at the top of his lungs. He was screaming at the top of his lungs. He was screaming at the top of his lungs. He was screaming at the top of his lungs.

He was screaming at the top of his lungs. He was screaming at the top of his lungs. He was screaming at the top of his lungs. He was screaming at the top of his lungs.

He was screaming at the top of his lungs. He was screaming at the top of his lungs. He was screaming at the top of his lungs. He was screaming at the top of his lungs.

himself, as he hopped away to find out what other people thought. "Poor Sammy Jay," I guess Uncle Billy must be right and he really is crazy. He can't talk straight, so he must be crazy. And all the rest of that day Peter told every one that that Sammy Jay had gone crazy.

He came flying out of the Green Forest, flying as fast as he could make his wings and screaming at the top of his lungs. He saw Jimmy Skunk coming down the Lone Little Path and flew to meet him.

"He's a stranger and he's black!" screamed Sammy. "Who's a stranger and who's black?" asked Jimmy.

"And he's got great big claws in his mouth!" continued Sammy. "Jimmy Skunk stopped short and stared very hard at Sammy Jay. "Say that again," said he.

But just then Sammy caught sight of Peter Rabbit down by his dear Briar Patch. "Oh, I must tell Peter!" he screamed. "Peter Rabbit! He's there! He's bigger than Farmer Brown's boy!" he yelled. At the time he was screaming this long story he was anywhere near the Old Briar Patch.

Jimmy Skunk was still staring after him, still scratching his head and still kind of a way, when alone came Uncle Billy Possum.

"Uncle Billy grinned as he looked over at the old Briar Patch. "Mistah Jaybird's done gone crazy," he said. "Whoever heard of anybody with great big claws in his mouth?"

"Now, Peter could make no more sense of what Sammy was saying than could Jimmy Skunk and Uncle Billy Possum. "Who walks, Sammy Jay? Don't mess around. What's he into, you Sammy Jay?" demanded Peter.

POULTRY, PIGEONS AND LIVE STOCK

Some Reasons Why People Give Up Poultry Keeping

WHEN a person selects and sticks to a good variety of chickens it is surprising how quickly they can build up a good fancy trade for their products. It is no trouble for any breeder to command every year from $500 to $5,000 worth of business with one variety of fowls, and only by keeping a few hundred if he has them, can he possibly so they can be attended to easily. It takes a big investment and lots of work for any farm to bring in an income of more than $2,000 per year. It can be done with poultry, and when a person will be satisfied he can safely count on handling a business of $500 to $1,000 per year, with good birds of any popular standard variety, by doing a reasonable amount of advertising, some exhibiting and by putting some push and energy behind getting out your circulars and keeping up with the business. You can count on doing not less than $500 worth of business each year at least, and count on it as a steady business. Keep your birds up to the highest standard and never neglect them. Keep right in after what you are doing all the time and don't let your business ever be neglected.

I know of a number of breeders who have stuck to this business and, by using judgment, are making it pay them well. They are not so very just so long as they stay within bounds and do not jump from one variety to another. One mistake that many people make is to change from one variety to another. After a person has established himself with one variety of fowls and advertises, his business usually becomes known the world over. He can then get a reasonable amount of business just so long as he gives the public the quality they wish.

The poultry business is very fascinating, and during the winter months and often at times when there is nothing else being produced to bring money orders in when you have just laid eggs.

A person can always get a few orders with them that can usually count always on getting the other fellow's business, and get the cash for it.

A person cannot depend on doing any large amount of business in his immediate locality, but he must get out and advertise, and if he has the goods he can always find buyers for his poultry business. It is to be sure that the public continually find it so long as this is neglected the business will fall off, and you will find that it does not pay to neglect advertising. There is always a new set of fanners that come in from every year, and the man who will stay with the business and keep his stock up is always in a position to furnish something to these new beginners, as well as new blood to the old breeders.

Just so long as people have to eat poultry and eggs there will also always be a demand for them. The poultry business is a business that depends on this business with just as much safety as any line of work that can possibly be taken up. Of course it is like other things; you cannot hope to get rich quick from a small investment in this business, but as a safe business venture, and when a person can be satisfied with a reasonable amount of income, you can depend on it as safely as anything I know of.

There never was a brighter prospect or a brighter future than at the present time for people to get into this line of work and stick to it in a limited way. Do not venture too deeply, undertake too much or depend on it exclusively for your sole source of income, but as a side line it is one of the best things I know of that a man can have to bring in revenue every day in the year, especially in connection with some other line of work.

Yours very truly,
